Project Descriptions

The Port Moody Public Library intends to build a more substantial collection of materials authored by Indigenous writers. This project seeks to honour and respect the original caretakers of this land by giving them a more prominent representation in the collection. The materials will cover a broad range of topics, some of which will respond to the history and ongoing trauma caused by colonization and the residential school system.

Project Descriptions

The Port Moody Public Library would like to increase its collection of downloadable audio books. These audio books would be for purchase rather than lease. On the one hand, this collection would help reduce the long waiting list for audio books. On the other hand, purchasing audio books is an excellent long-term strategy to build the library's collection over the long-term.
